Current Comment

Last week my sole comment concerned the "move-on" ordinances recently passed by the board of supervisors of this county. Designed, apparently, in good faith, to forestall labor disputes and possible rioting during the harvest season hereabouts, I decried them as not only un-American, but as actually Hitlerish.

Since that time various granges throughout the country have approved the action of the supervisors, and while I can see their point readily enough and even sympathize with them in their annual ranch labor problems, I am still unable to reconcile my ideas of personal freedom to the ordinances passed by the county fathers.

I am glad to find that I am not the only person who fails to see eye to eye with the majority in this matter. Eleven mmebers of the department of economics, Stanford university, have gone on record as opposing the so-called "codes," and have suggested instead that the supervisors really get at the root of labor grievances with a view to forming a committee of arbitration. A right sensible suggestion, and one which would do more to settle troubled waters than any demonstration of force on the part of authorities—which, after all, might well be resented by the heads of fruit-worker families, playfully termed "dangerous reds" by the illustrious daily press of the county seat.

"Easter has come and gone again. Instead of peace on earth and good will toward all, there is unrest, class hatred and actual revolution in many parts of the world. Politics has become the 'biggest business.' It bids fair to consume savings and capital of many countries. Taxation grows and the constant fear of wars drains the public treasuries to prepare for war.

"With growing talk of facism, communism, and socialism as a remedy for worldly troubles, we as a nation, should not lose sight of one outstanding fact, namely; that we, the people of the United States, are the government. No other form of government ever gave such complete control to 'the people' as does our own constitution.

"We have no ruling class here that it is necessary to revolt against in order to protect ourselves. By the ballot we, the people, have the power to express our views in a more emphatic, orderly and speedy manner than can ever be accomplished by force.

"In these days of unrest and discontent we should remember these facts. We should appreciate the great government that we have. We should get down on our knees and offer a prayer of thankfulness that our ancestors, through trial and suffering, created a constitutional form of government that gives each and every one of us the greatest liberty and equality of opportunity of any people in the world.

"Our constitution is the poor man's heritage and the rich man's only protection."

The foregoing lines are from "The Industrial Review," a publication sent weekly to newspaper editors in the hope that a good share of "rugged individualism" propaganda contained therein will find its way into the press of the land already reeking with hypocritical flag-waving. Unfortunately a lot of it does.

I am inclined to question the veracity of several of the quoted assertions. For example: "We have no ruling class here, etc." There is no more class-conscious country in the world than the United States of America; and if there were no "ruling class" this condition would not exist. Even the most stupid of us is aware of special privileges, the bought-power of minority groups; in short, the rule of the moneyed class. Extending even to the comparatively insignificant realm of the traffic court.

One would have a difficult time of it trying to convince unemployed youth that "equality of opportunity" is rampant in the land. Not when the scions of big business fall from college into big pay jobs while the poor youth, whose "heritage" is the system made possible by the government, stands on the street corner wondering when the "big shots" will see fit to put the roller bearings under industry again.

A pertinent truth is embodied in the second half of the last line—but other fallacies present themselves to the alert mind in great abundance.

LOCAL PROF. IS HOST TO SCHOOL MEN

On Monday evening the Campbell union grammar school was the scene of the quarterly meeting of the Schoolmasters' club. Ira R. Abbott, principal of the local grammar school and host to the group on this occasion, had arranged for the serving of dinner in the cafeteria.

Election of officers resulted in the selection of Prentiss Brown, principal of Los Gatos union high school, as president; M. F. Susanj, principal of McKinley school on McLaughlin avenue, vice president, and A. H. Harrall, assistant superintendent of San Jose schools, secretary.

Walter Bachrodt, superintendent of San Jose city schools reported on a recent convention of educators which he had attended in Cleveland, Ohio, and Hugh Cramer, high school student, offered several violin solos, accompanied by Miss Jeannette Wellington.

The Schoolmasters' club is a "no-dues" organization, and therefore considers every male teacher in the county a member. Date of next meeting has not been announced.

A good attendance is urged.

Grangers Hear Complete Report Water Dist. Finance

At a well attended meeting of the Orchard City grange at Odd Fellows hall last night five new members from Campbell were given the third and fourth degrees. They were Anna C. Dart, Robert Lea, Ora Lea, Helda Messrsmith, John Fortini and Nora Fortini. Another to take the work was a member of Coyote grange.

A harvest feast at 6:30 was thoroughly enjoyed by local grangers and many visitors from Morgan Hill, Gilroy, Mt. Hamilton and Sunnyvale granges. Louis Shelley was chairman of the committee in charge of the supper.

During the business meeting a card party was announced for Friday evening, April 13, to be held at Odd Fellows hall.

The item of chief importance, and that which occupied most of the time allotted to business, was a report of the water meeting held here last Wednesday. Herbert M. Shadle, chairman of the civic affairs committee, acquainted grangers with the facts brought forth at the aforementioned meeting.

Attended by himself, S. N. Hedegard, Joseph McKinnon and William Coupland for the grange; Guy Farley for the chamber of commerce; Ed Wiesendanger for the Kiwanis club; T. J.Henderson, Mortimor Vennum, E. A. Barker, Joseph A. Schuh and George Fitzgerald for the Tax league; John D. Crummey, Nick Nelson and Clarence Rich for general water advisory committee; W. I. Finnemore for the Santa Clara Valley Water company; Leroy Anderson for the Santa Clara Valley Water Conservation district, and Lloyd Gardner and Edgar Thrift, Mr. Shadle said that the financial condition of the conservation district was at this meeting revealed to be in excellent shape, and to include none of the staggering figures which had been mentioned in connection with conservation work in the district.

In substatiation of the report Mr. Shadle read to the grange a complete financial statement of the conservation district prepared by an accountant as follows:

EDUCATIONAL PROBLEMS AT CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Maude Clark Glasson of of Los Altos will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Country Woman's club on Monday, April 16th.

"Modern Trend in Education" is the subject and Mrs. Glasson, as an educator, tax-payer and mother, is highly qualified to show how the faith of the common people in the educational system of California is being broken, and what powers are behind the movement.

Every believer in the one institution that belongs to the common people, should hear this vibrant message of facts.

The program begins at 3 p.m. and the public is most cordially invited.

Japanese Show On Program for Thursday Night

Sponsored by the Campbell grammar school P.T.A. a group of Japanese children and several adults will stage a show in the Japanese manner at the grammar school auditorium this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Dances, folk songs, a one-act drama and an exhibition of judo (jiu jitsu) will make up what promises to be an interesting program.

A good turn out is urged by the Parent-Teacher association, as the money raised will go toward carrying on the indispensable work of this organization.

Road Work to Be Completed By Next Month

According to Harold Jepson, road superintendent in charge, the improvements on Campbell avenue, Apricot avenue, Hamilton avenue and Dry Creek road will be finished sometime next month.

The improvements are: Grading and spreading of screenings on a 12-foot shoulder on the north side of East Campbell avenue; grading and rolling Apricot avenue and graveling of a 10-foot shoulder on Hamilton avenue between San Jose-Los Gatos highway and Meridian road.

The new budget provides for the grading and paving of Campbell avenue west of Winchester road to Quito road, but Jepson does not believe it will be done before summer.

Campbell and Burbank C.Y.O. Dance Saturday

The Burbank-Campbell C. Y. O. Baseball club will hold a dance for the benefit of the team in St. Martin's parish hall at Burbank Saturday night.

George Gurcovich is in charge of arrangements.

A "mothers and daughters" tea and entertainment will be held at the Campbell high school April 27.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

American government, during last year, spent nearly 50 per cent of everything the American people earned.

Roughly estimated, the national tax burden amounted to about 24 per cent of the national income.

And on top of this colossal tax bill, government borrowed and spent—to be paid in taxes at some later date—approximately 25 per cent of the people's earnings!

Such, in brief form, is the story of governmental finance for 1933.

Translated into individual terms, it means that the average American citizen has assumed a 50:50 partnership with government—a partnership of vast responsibilities and tremendous significance.

To the California farmer, for example, it means that political harvests and crop harvests—temporarily, at least, are of equal importance.

Taking stock of the situation, California farmers, together with citizens in every walk of life, will scan the list of candidates for state and local offices this year, as well as their platforms, with vital and personal interest, if they are alert in the protection of their pocketbooks.

And there is every indication that candidates for every office from governor to town clerk will go to the electorate on programs of "economy and efficiency."

Sifting the wheat from the chaff, in the face of such conditions will be a test of both voter-interest and voter-intelligence.

California farmers, ranking among the state's heaviest taxpayers, and desperately in need of reducing every item in their overhead to stay in business, should take the lead in an insistent demand that all candidates, regardless of party affiliations, state specifically and clearly where and how they propose to achieve their economies.

Government, to be sure, has been called upon, as never before, to make huge expenditures in the relief of unemployment and in the stimulation of business and industry. But there can and should be a very definite line of demarcation between wasteful, extravagant government and the present program of governmental spending to achieve recovery.

That there is an opportunity and need for heavy reductions in governmental overhead is best evidenced by the fact that national income in the United States has dropped approximately 57 per cent since 1929, forcing drastic reductions in the exepnditures of virtually every farmily. And during the same period, taxes have dropped only 17 per cent.

Aggravating the problem, and calling for sharp scrutiny of all bond issues and tax proposals submitted to the voters, California's authorized public debt has reached the staggering sum of three billion, three hundred million dollars—or approximately half of the assessed value of all real and tangible personal property in the state.

If the private debts of the people are added to this public debt, according to compilations of the California Taxpayers' association, the equity of California citizens in their own property is only about ten to fifteen cents on the dollar.

Such conditions emphasize the full import of the voter's partnership with government—and the imperative need of taking the partnership seriously at election time!

CAMPBELL CLUB DEFEATS STRONG RICHMONDERS

By Hal DeFraga

Campbell came through with its first win against Richmond-Chase Sunday when the local nine won the ball game by a 5 to 4 score. Campbell put a revamped lineup on on the field and the boys played good ball, although it looked bad for the first two innings.

The Canners put across two runs in the first inning without the aid of a hit. De Dante grounded out. Battaglia was hit by a pitched ball. Joanquin was safe on an error and both scored when Carlo drove one through Johnson at first. Jung got in further trouble in this same inning by hitting Marconi and walking Spatafore. He then settled down and struck out Lehman and Rudd with the bases bulging.

Richmond-Chase put across their last two tallies in the second frame. Stasi led off and De Dante was issued a free pass. Battaglia flew out and Joaquin fanned, but Carlo came through with a single to knock in two more markers.

Jung pitched masterful ball from then on. He was helped out of numerous holes by flashy fielding on the part of his team mates. In the fifth Atkinson went back to pull down Marconi's fly and fell as he caught the ball. In the ninth with two out Rudd tripled to right field and on a relay and throw he was nipped at the plate to end a great game.

Stasi was the complete master of the situation for four innings. He showed signs of weakening in the fourth when he issued walks to Strong and Jung, but no damage resulted. His wildness stayed with him in the field, however, and Campbell was able to score twice. Merritt walked as did Johnson. Reed grounded out and Merritt was thrown out at the plate on De Fraga's grounder to third. DeFraga stole second and both he and Johnson scored on Atkinson's two-base hit to left field. Campbell was held hitless in the sixth but came back in the seventh to tie the game up. Johnson beat out an infield hit. Reed popped to the infield and DeFraga "whiffled." Atkinson stepped up and hit a terrific liner to left. Joaquin, attempting to make a shoe-string catch, let the ball get through him and Atkinson circled the bases. Jung won his own ball game in the eighth when he hit a home run into right field, and if the fence hadn't been there the ball would be going yet.

Campbell seemed to wake up Sunday and play the kind of ball they are capable of playing. They got their hits when they were needed. Consequently there were very few allowed. Campbell was able to get four off Stasi—two home runs, one two bagger and a single. Richmond-Chase collected five off Jung—one three bagger, four singles. It was one of the best games seen at the local diamond in a long time, and the fans who stayed at home missed a sweet game.

Campbell is going after the championship in earnest this time, but expects plenty of opposition, especially from Franklin and San Martin. Ladue in the outfield and Johnson on first base were two additions Sunday and both looked like comers. Neither have played ball for over a year and as soon as they get a few games under their belts they will be right up there with the base hits. Another pitcher will probably be signed up and also a shortstop.

Campbell journeys to Los Gatos next Sunday for the second game of the first half. It is probable that the Burbank-Campbell nine and Santa Clara C. Y. O. teams will play at Campbell. If not the fans have to wait one week, when San Martin will be the visitor.

ANDERSON EXPLAINS WORK IN WATER DIST.

At a meeting in G. E. Farley's office Wednesday night water conservation committees of the Campbell chamber of commerce, Orchard City grange, Tax League and the Kiwanis club listened to an explanation of the distribution of money which is proposed to be raised by a two million dollar bond issue which, together with a federal appropriation, will create a working fund of $2,700,000.

Leroy Anderson, secretary of the Santa Clara Water Conservation district, C. L. Rich, trustee, and John Crummey, water conservationist of San Jose were present.

Mr. Anderson told the local committeemen that the following apportionment of money had been approved by the federal government, and that it was the basis on which the gift of $700,000 had been granted: $600,000 on Coyote creek; $1,200,000 on Almaden and the Guadalupe; $235,000 on Los Gatos creek, and the balance on small streams of the west watershed. No storage or distributing systems will be built, the entire sum to be spent on percolation work.

S. N. Hedegard of the grange committee protested the allotment of funds, urging that the west side of the valley has, under the present set-up, been unnecessarily slighted. He argued that a dam in Los Gatos creek at Vasona, with canals runing through toward Cupertino, would really do the west valley some good.

Anderson countered with the assertion that engineers have stated that water percolated on the Coyote and elsewhere would eventually fill the underground basin under the entire valley. There the matter rested, and the representatives of local organizations went on record as approving the work as outlined.

Herbert Shadle was chairman of the evening.

In celebration of her birthday, Mrs. Edna Walker, with a group of friends, spent Sunday at Santa Cruz. The other members of the party were the Misses Margaret Keesling, Peggy Flynn and Edith Pastarella and Robert Stubbe Bruce Stone, Jack Herrman and O. B. Gibson.

Mrs. W. C. Grizzle and Miss Winnie Grizzle will entertain the members of the stitching club at the I.O.O.F. hall Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Theresa Brydon, president, will preside over the business meeting.

A COOL KITCHEN WHEN YOU USE THE NEW ELECTRIC RANGE AND WATER HEATER
Automatic ELECTRIC
Automatic ELECTRIC WATER HEATER

IT is more than mere talk—the modern electric range and water heater do mean cooler kitchens in hot summer.

Just why they do mean this is simply explained. For example, in the thickly insulated oven of the electric range cooking temperature may be at 500 degrees. Yet outside on the oven top or door it is just barely warm. The same is true of the electric water heater—the water inside the tank may be hot but the tank cover is hardly warmer than your hand.

Why not have these cool and capable kitchen companions working for you in your kitchen this summer and all the summers for many years? They are not expensive to buy right now. Purchase terms are exceptionally easy. And on the new low electric rate they are most economical to operate.

1¢ -per kilowatt hour! A new low rate block in the electric rate for cooking and water heating consumers.

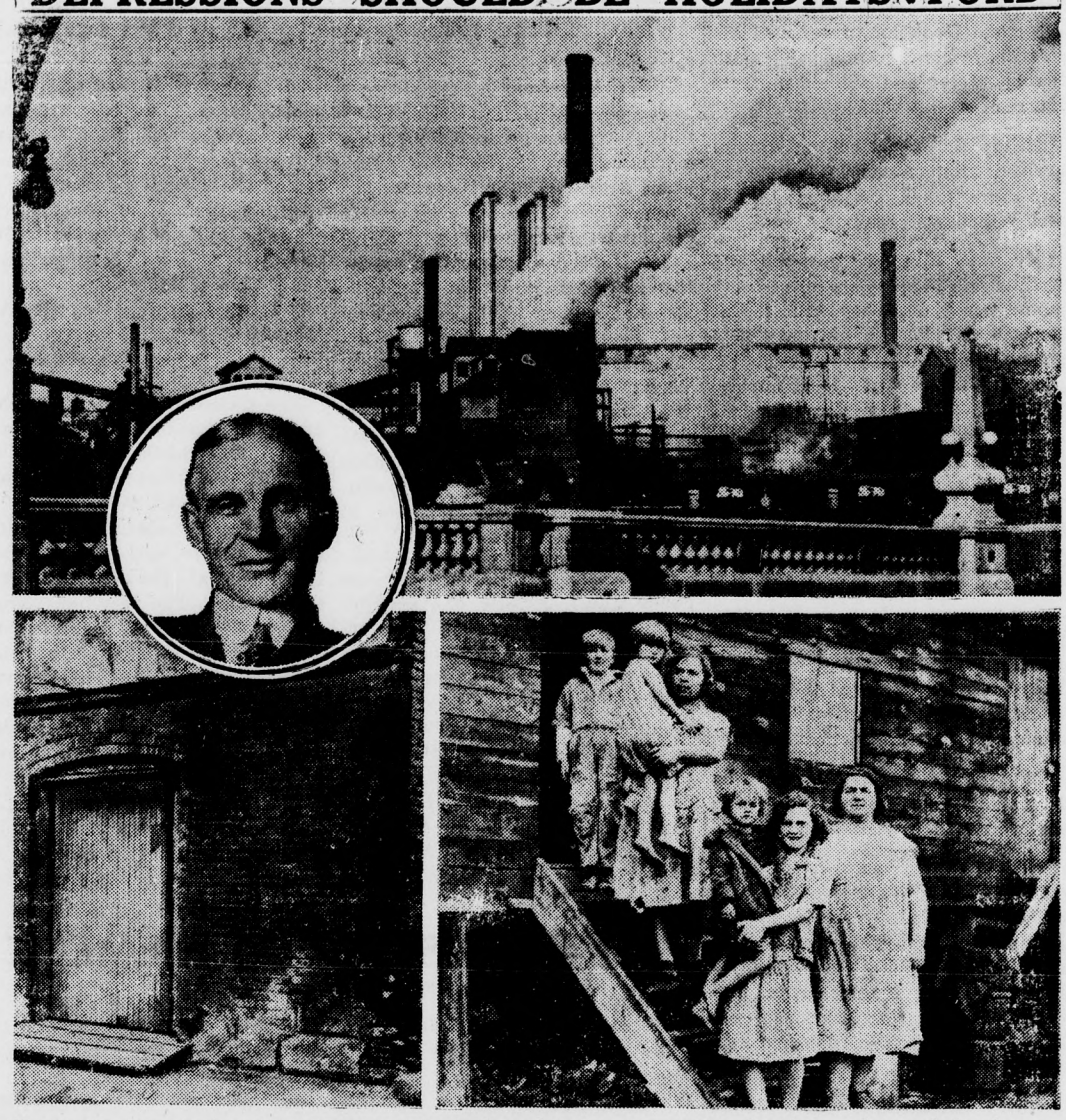
DEPRESSIONS SHOULD BE HOLIDAYS—FORD



Henry Ford, writing in Liberty Magazine, declares he sees no reason why depressions of the future, properly prepared for, should not be real vacations. Motor magnate is in favor of decentralization of industry, stating that more than 5,000 outside plants participating in Ford manufacture could be increased ten times. He says great wealth is unimportant and that the falsity of the present industrial system lies in the fact that it keeps workers and their work too far apart. Mr. Ford's likeness is seen in inset upon picture of his mighty Detroit plant, while lower panels show (at left) first Ford workshop, the like of which may take on increased importance in the future if Mr. Ford's predictions come true. At right below is seen picture of dire poverty in an overcrowded industrial section.

KIWANIS NOTES By Heck

Tuesday was agriculture day and the farmer guests enjoyed a treat along with the Kiwanians. Ed Wiesendanger, chairman, after lauding the first famer-fig-grower, Adam, presented R. W. Ritchie, information agent for the eleventh district F.C.A. This district takes in the states of Arizona, Utah, Nevada and California, with all the varied conditions of soil and climate, and the regions varying from arid to swampy.

In this particular section the falling water tables must be considered in placing these thirty year loans which are paid by U.S. bonds callable in ten years.

Provision is planned for every variety of farm credit. Farm production may prove popular for this section although some ranches have very little crop. These crop credits must be annual.

Ralph Hyde will tell of his vacation trip to Boulder and Grand Canyons at next Tuesday's luncheon.

Los Gatos Choir Sings In Campbell
